

The ProSPER.Net Leadership Programme aims at creating an inclusive platform for dialogue involving different stakeholders, informed policy- thinking and decision-making, new ways of managing knowledge, and implementing research solutions.

The idea was also to complement ProSPER.Net's Young Researchers' School (YRS) and Young Scientist Award (YSA), whose primary objectives are to build research capacity and to recognize relevant research for sustainable development. The new programme would also contribute to promoting a growing network of YRS graduates and YSA winners. The programme provides an opportunity for developing and practicing skills to enable participants to become agents of change through a transformational and experiential learning process.
